BLOOD DONATIONS SOUGHT FOR RELATIVES
OF MISSOULA RESIDENTS TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

MISSOULA--

Blood donors participating in the Red Cross blood drawing Tuesday and Wednesday (Nov. 6-7) at the University of Montana may credit their contributions to three out-of-state residents, who are either suffering from disease or recovering from surgery.

The three persons needing the blood, all relatives of Missoula residents, are Harry Jones, a leukemia patient at the University of Utah Medical Center, Salt Lake City; Cecil Haydon, who had open heart surgery in September at Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane, Wash., and Agnes Robotka, who was a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Racine, Wis.

Mrs. Harriet Veazey, manager of the Missoula Chapter of the Red Cross, said the blood drawing Tuesday and Wednesday will be from 10 a.m.-4p.m. in the University Center Ballroom.

The blood drawing is being sponsored by members of Delta Gamma sorority and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at UM.

Veazey said she hopes this week's drive will yield a minimum of 370 pints of blood, or at least 185 pints each day.

She said townspeople as well as UM students, faculty and staff members are invited to participate in the blood drawing.
